MILESTONE

EASTERN KENTUCKY STATE COLLEGE
RICHMOND, KENTUCKY

MILESTONE

This is Eastern. This is a small but progressive and growing college of seventeen hundred students. Through its gates pass men and women from every part of the state and from many miles beyond the Commonwealth. Our homes are as far apart as Staten Island to Denver and from Detrait to Pensacola; from Burning Springs and Honey Bee and Happy Valley to Richmond.

We come from large cities and small farms; from modernistic high schools and one-room schools; from little rural churches and from city congregations; from the mountains and the bluegrass; from the coal miner's family, the railroaders, the farmer's, the business executive's.

We come with the marks of our community ways upon us. We speak the soft and slow speech of our southern hills and mountains and the swift, clipped speech of northern towns. We come with ballads an our tongues and fiddle tunes at our finger tips, and with remembered symphanies in aur ears.

We come believing and worshipping in our Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, or Mormon faiths. We come with minds which have been exposed to many different views, but have not always met a view on life which we could accept as our own.

We come with bioses and prejudices acquired in our local communities ar perhaps we come with apen minds, willing to consider new apinions.

But these differences of background lase their sharpness when we enter into our new world . . . our one world, college. Merely our presence here unites us into one . . . a person who has the love of Eastern foremost in his mind.

We come with many goals. While here our feet will pass through many doors, climb many steps that lead through halls of applied arts, science, fine arts, education, health and physical educatian, military science, mathematics, social science.

Our feet travel many campus miles. They run with fall, drag with winter, skip with spring, play with summer.

Daily we travel over familiar paths. Our presence creates centers of activity. Over a cup of coffee, in a history class, on the main walk, or in a crowded car, the campus furnishes activity.

Our steps will take us through beckoning doors which open into places of work and play, study and recreation. These avenues will provide to us a way of life which at first has an air of strangeness, but gradually we begin to feel that we belong.

Our campus is our home. Within the dormitories of Sullivan, Memorial, McCreary, Beckham, and Burnam we find a great portion of our college life. These buildings provide us with the opportunities to meet people who will become life-long friends.

Stately columns invite us to enter . . . to share through days and midnight hours of study and talk and carefree laughter all our hopes, all our ambitions, all our fears. Dormitory life is an unforgettable experience long to be remembered and cherished.

This is Eastern. Perhaps no campus presents a prettier scene. Beauty is radiant during each season here. Eastern is a picture of serene loveliness when fallen snow turns the campus into a white paradise.

In winter the campus is covered with a sparkling blanket that almost brings an atmosphere of majesty.

And the rains came . . . seemingly never to leave, but sprinkling the promise of a new season.

Spring and summer bring budding trees and blossaming flowers which perfume the campus with their fragrance. Leaves, wave on wave, begin to darken the still, green grass . . . long shadows come . . . the amphitheatre is a vision of spellbinding color reflecting the gorgeous multicolored pageantry of fall.

And through all the seasons, the Student Union in her nightly beauty towers over the campus. Seeing her gleaming or shadowy loveliness and hearing the ten o'clock chimes ring good night stills the restlessness of day and brings quietness and peace.

Among these favorite buildings, on this dear campus, students grow from shy, awkward freshmen to confident, poised graduates. Remembering at all times that knowledge is our goal, we realize also that "education is where you find it." Eastern students are alive.

The friendly, informal campus environment doesn't permit anyone to conceal his personality for long. And this quality more than any other is responsible for our institution being known hereabouts as "one of the friendliest colleges."

We are proud of EKSC's famed Southern traditions and folk-ways, but prouder still of its outstanding scholastic position in the nation. We believe that the members of our administration are among the most conscientious and understanding to be found anywhere. Our instructors unceasingly strive to stimulate our self-development, and to guide our sometimes reluctant and wayward feet along the never-ending road of learning.

Eastern is growing. It will be larger and greater tomorrow. But the most cherished memories of the class of 1955 will always center around the closeness of spirit and friendly intimacy of the "Little" Eastern we knew. May its expanding program not forget to retain these indispensable values as a part of its basic fiber and foundation.

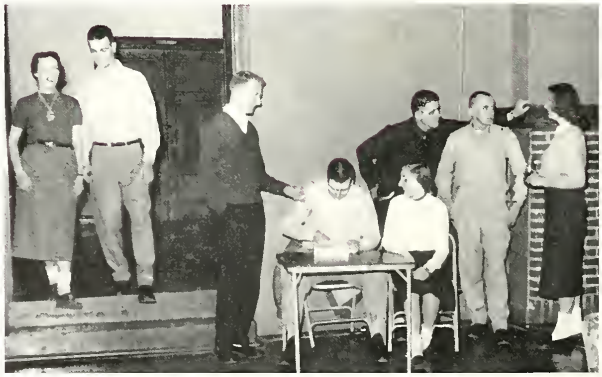
May this 1955 MILESTONE retain, restore, and preserve in your heart and mind, the Eastern we knew for all the years to come.

Edie and Peggy

Desiring only to better our class, thinking never of personal gain, working diligently in any senior or campus activity, wanting to be an intimate friend with all students, being one of the most capable and most efficient leaders of all time, impressing all with her grace, charm, and poise . . . these are some of the limited reasons why Dean Emma Y. Case, class advisor for four years, is accorded our respect and praise.

We, the senior class, proudly dedicate our 1955 Milestone to our Dean Case.

SENIORS



Seniar Class president is Harry Stigall. Officers are James Winn, vice-president; Sue Appletan, secretary; and Chester Raker, treasurer. Mrs. Emma Y. Case is class advisar. Among the many senior spansored activities are the Thursday evening bunny hops where seniors gather to chat, to dance and to have fun.

Two hundred and fifty-one students are members of the 1955 senior class. Many of this group have been together since September, 1951, and by the unity created when freshmen, this class can claim to be one of the most active groups ever to graduate from Eastern. Reminiscencing students can recall many activities sponsored by the class of '55 . . . annual Christmas banquets . . . selling Tuesday night movie tickets . . . the 1953 Valentine Dance . . . bunny hops . . . the organization of Kappa Iota Epsilon . . . the beginning of the junior-senior men's honorary . . . the reception last May for the seniors of '54 . . . a spring picnic to Natural Bridge in the junior year . . . helping with Vocational Conference and the Marriage Conference.

Members of the class have shown outstanding qualities of leadership, scholarship, and character which have been used for the betterment of the college.

ADMINISTRATION

Eastern's administration is composed of the Board of Regents, the President, heads of divisions, heads of departments, and faculty. Our college and students are guided by the many capable, excelling leaders who are lead by the college president, W. F. O'Donnell, shown with his wife, Mrs. O'Donnell.

CECIL C. SANDERS

BOARD OF REGENTS

The government of the college is vested in the Board of Regents composed of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is Chairman of the Board, and four members appointed by the Governor. The term of office is four years but the appointive members may succeed themselves. Since its founding in 1906, Eastern has had only twenty-three regents.

The present Board consists of Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Elmer Blackburn, mayor of Pikeville, banker, and a leading citizen in his community; Keen Johnson, Richmond, former governor and lieutenant governor of Kentucky, now vice-president and a member of the Board of Directors of the Reynolds Metal Company; A. C. Jones, banker, business and civic leader of Harlan; Cecil C. Sanders, lawyer, member of the state legislature, and public spirited citizen of Lancaster.

These men are keenly interested in the college's program and in the welfare of the students and faculty.

A deeply sincere interest in anything concerned with Eastern; the drive and obility to push Eastern ahead in years to come; a genuine love for college students; a friendly smile for everyone; a concern for each minute's activity on campus; an office always open to anyone who wants to talk with him—these are the things which make President W. F. O'Donnell what he is — a man who will be remembered by each Eastern student long ofter the college years ore past.

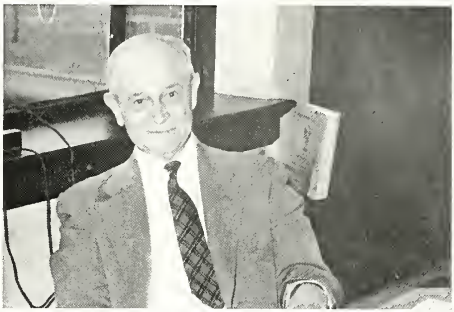
W. J. MOORE, Dean of the College

A conscientious interest in the individual; a warm smile and a dry wit; an ability to meet any situation; an interest in all campus activity; and an able effort to aid each student — this is how Dean Moore will be remembered.

G. M. BROCK
Business Agent

An industrious, busy air; an efficient capable manner in handling the business affairs of the college; a sincere interest in the work he is doing — these are the qualities which characterize Mr. Brock.

EMMA Y. CASE
Dean of Women



MELVIN E. MATTOX
Registrar

Through the offices of the highly trained and efficient administration, the concerns and problems of the college are directed toward a progressive goal.

SECOND SEMESTER JUNIORS

The junior class is being recagnized on campus as a class full of zeal and beauty. Throughaut the past three years na ather group can boast of the number of queens selected from any membership as can the junior class. And with this beauty and poise comes ambitious and hard-working peaple who have made many junior sponsored activities very successful. This year they were responsible for the Sadie Hawkins Dance, the April Fool's Dance, and Junior-Senior Pram. Added to this is the class banquet which was held at Benault Inn on Saturday, April 2.

Knowing that such an active class is following, the seniors are prepared to leave the destiny of Eastern in the hands of the class of '56.

ATHLETICS

Eastern's athletic department is outstanding in the variety of sports offered. The college is fortunate in having the excellent coaches and instructors that direct our physical education program. This has been a golden year, being OVC champions of both football and basketball and last year's champs of baseball.

FOOTBALL

Coach Glenn Presnell attended the University of Nebraska where he was an All-American halfback in 1927. From 1928 to 1936 he played professional football, but returned to Nebraska in 1938 to be backfield coach until 1941. He was nomed head coach at that university the following year. After serving three years as a Navy officer, Coach Presnell came to Eastern in the fall of 1947.

Fred Darling has been line cooch at Eastern since 1947. He played three years of football here where he was chosen as honorable mention of the Little All-American team. Darling was also selected as first string tackle on the Kentucky Inter-Collegiate Athletic Conference squad for three years.

SEASON'S

The Eastern Maroon football team enjoyed the greatest season in the history of the grid sport at the college, winning their first Ohio Valley Conference title since the league was organized, and getting their first bid to a post-season event.

The Maroons with the touchdown help of Chuck Bell and Don Daly opened the season with a 19-0 upset over highly-regarded John Carroll, then defeated, in order, conference foes Middle Tennessee 26-0, Murray 25-6, and Tennessee Tech 14-7. Two touchdowns by Jim Hanlon and one each for Jack Rodgers and Bob Muller were the spark-plugs that gave Eastern an easy victory over the Tennessee Raiders. The following game was the first time this year that an opponent scored against the Maroons. Eastern's win over Murray was gained by Ed Miracle and Daly, each counting for two touchdowns. Fred Winscher, Daly, Don Hortman, and Ernie Rigrish were key-men in the scoring department for Tennessee Tech being Eastern's fourth victim.

The following week, the locals journeyed to Youngstown, Ohio, to meet the favored Penguins of that college, and, led by quarterback Hanlon, they soundly thrashed the Ohioans by a 25-7 count for their fifth straight win which snapped a seven game winning streak of the northern neighbors.

RESUMÉ

The Morehead Eagles were the next to fall, only after the Eagles had given the overwhelmingly favored Maroons all they could handle before Eastern won by a 12-8 count, with Hanlon and Tom Schulte scoring the TD's. Winning this permitted the Maroons to retain the "Hawg Rifle" which Eastern has won nine times to Morehead's six victories.

The University of Toledo came next and put the first blemish on the record books, holding the Maroons to a 13-13 tie at the annual Dad's Game in Hanger Stadium.

In the big game of the year, Eastern met arch rival Western before a homecoming crowd at Bowling Green and soundly trounced the Hilltoppers by a 21-0 score to cop their first conference championship. Led by Schulte, Hanlon, and "Dutch" Greene, the Eastern men handed this apponent their first setback of the season.

In the season finale, the Maroons took the University of Louisville by a 20-6 score before the homecoming folks at Eastern to become only the second Eastern team to go undefeated. The regular season ended with eight wins, no lasses, and one tie.

"Eastern Kentucky was chosen over several other of the eligible colleges and universities because it has always been the policy of the Tangerine Bowl committee to select the two best small colleges in the section."

This selection of the Tangerine Bowl Committee turned Eastern's campus into an exciting jubilation in honor of this year's football team, winner of the OVC championship and first Maroon pigskin squad ever to receive a bowl bid.

After hours of anxious waiting and hopeful dreams the student body, upon hearing the selection, was like a chain reaction, shouting their joys, forming snake dances, and planning Christmas vacations in Florida. In less than five minutes after Coach Presnell returned from the Sunshine State with the bowl-bound news, the college and community were celebrating the Florida decision which had chosen the Eastern Maroons to meet the University of Omaha Indians in the ninth annual Elks Tangerine Bowl classic at Orlando on New Year's night.

The Maroons were destined to meet one of the two teams in the nation with nine winners and no defeats. Besides leading the country in victories, Omaha had a 13-game winning skein over the last two years. Eastern's opponents were also the leading scoring team in the nation, having scored 353 points, an average of better than 39 points per contest and their single game low was 26 points.

In preparation for the bowl game, the team started football practice during the second week of December. Coach Presnell and his boys headed South on December 23 for a football bowl game, a Florida Christmas, and ten days of sunshine.

The Maroons played a great game in Orlando, although they dropped their first tilt in 15 games including a tie contest in the '54 season by Toledo.

The Indians from Omaha scored with 5:23 remaining in the opening period when tailback Bill Engelhardt, voted the game's most outstanding player, tossed to captain Rudy Rotella, who eluded three Eastern would-be tacklers and raced the remaining 20 yards for the score. Engelhardt added the extra point, which proved to be the deciding margin, and the Indians led 7-0.

The Maroons moved the ball from their own 21 to Omaha's 44 midway in the second period, but were forced to kick, Tom Schulte booting the ball to Omaha's 8. The Indians advanced to the 41 where Emil Radik lost possession of the pigskin after a bruising tackle by a host of Maroons and Eastern quarterback Jim Hanlon pounced on the oval on Omaha's 48.

A pair of off-sides penalties against the Maroons moved the ball back to the Eastern's 42. Three rushing attempts failed to net the necessary 20 yards, but Omaha drew a 15 yard penalty for illegal substitution, placing the ball on Omaha's 43. A pair of rushing thrusts netted nine yards before Don Daly sped for 13 on a sweep to the left for a first and ten on the 21. Bobby Lenderman, playing his first game since the season opened due to an injury, tossed to Fred Winscher for eight yards and Lenderman made the first down on the nine on a sneak. The little junior signal-caller stepped back and hit "Dutch" Greene, who was waiting on the four. The speedy Greene dashed over unmolested for the score to make the scoreboard read 7-6, Omaha, with 3:19 remaining in the second quarter. Ernie Rigrish came in for the all-important extra point attempt, but the kick was wide to the right.

And as far as score was concerned, the game was over.

Tangerine Bowl officials said that this year's clash was the most evenly-matched game in the nine year history of the post-season bowl game.

Eastern's Don Daly was the hardest running back on the field as he racked up 68 yards in 11 carries, outgaining Omaha's Engelhardt some 21 yards. Fullback Bob Muller played an outstanding game as the 205 pound senior netted 34 yards, rushing and teamed with "Bozo" Castel, Frank Nassida, Karl Bays, Jerry Johns, Tom Sammons, Tom Schulte, Fred Winscher, Jerry Boyd, and a host of other Maroons to turn in a tremendous defensive performance.

BASKETBALL

Since 1946 when Paul McBrayer came to coach the Maroon Basketball team, Eastern has, in this field, made a steady climb from nowhere to natianal praminence. By 1949 McBrayer had built Eastern's team to the point where it entered the select graup classified by the N.C.A.A. as "major" college basketball team.

COACH McBRAYER

Coach McBrayer is nationally known as a master strategist, a strict disciplinarian, a basketball fundamentalist with limitless knowledge of the game.

He is a native af Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, and attended the University of Kentucky where he starred in basketball and baseball and was named on the All - American basketball team in 1930. After coaching at Marton Junior High in Lexingtan and at Kavanaugh High in Lawrenceburg, McBrayer returned to the University as assistant coach for nine years. After serving two and a half years in the service, he came to Eastern in 1946.

The Eastern Kentucky Maroons, paced by their All-America candidate Jack Adams, breezed to the champianship af the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament after already exceeding all expectations during the season. Coach Paul McBrayer was still rebuilding, having started last year from scratch, but brought his squad along in magnificent fashian and the record books were rewritten.

The brilliant Adams, a 6-4 junior forward, acclaimed by sports writers in this area as the best player in Kentucky and one of the top in the nation, set nine new records himself, and as o teom, the Maraans broke almost as many.

Adams scared a tatal of 533 points, an average of 23.2 a game, to rank 28th in the nation among major callege players according ta final N.C.A.A. statistics, the anly Kentucky College player in the top 50.

No ane player can do the job alone, however, and Adams had brilliant suppart from Dick Culbertson, Ronnie Pellegrinon, Bill Baxter, Jim Floyd, Guy Strang, Clayton Stivers, Horold Fraley, Jimmy Mitchell, and a half dozen athers, all stars in their own right, and each contributing tremendously to the team's success. An early season injury suffered by J. D. Brack, brilliant freshman of last year, sidelined him for the rest of the year and left a big gap to be filled, but he is expected to return to action next season.

The Maroons, in their 7th year af major college competition, averaged 84 points a game, an all-time high, to rank 14th nationally; they hit 72.6% of their free thraws to rank 8th; they grabbed 58.2% af the rebaunds—averaging 55.8 a game—ta rank 11th; and hit 40.3% af their shats to finish 28th in this department.

In the Kentucky Invitation Tournament during the Christmas holidays, the McBrayermen knocked off arch rival Western Kentucky in the first round, but bowed to the powerful University of Louisville quintet in the finals, a loss which they later avenged with a 79-77 overtime victory.

Preparation, determination, and desire paid off for the Maroons as they rocked up one of the greatest victories of the year in downing Louisville. Only Marquette and the mighty Dayton Flyers, who went on to the finals of the National Invitation Tournament, had been able to accomplish the feat, and N.I.T. Champion Duquesne was pressed to defeat the Cardinals by only 6 points.

Another highlight of the season was the 60-46 win over a strong Xavier University outfit, a victory accomplished after a grueling 240-mile, 8-hour bus ride through rain and fog from Bristol, Virginia, where their plane had been grounded on the return trip from North Carolina State. It was a courageous band of Maroons that took the floor just three hours after arriving on the campus and completely outplayed the Musketeers.

The best performance of the year was the 120-91 triumph over a good Loyola of the South team on February 15. The Maroons outrebounded the Wolfpack 84 to 39 in this romp, with Adams personally grabbing 27 of them in addition to pitching in 40 points.

Other wins over Virginia, Toledo, and Murray were impressive as they went over the century mark four times to wind up with a season record of 15 wins against eight losses.

The Maroons played brilliantly in their drive to the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament Championship, winning with ease over Morehead 91-76, and downing Murray for the crown, 76-59, to add a third championship cup to the four runners-up trophies already won in the seven-year history of the conference.

The main girls' sports offered at Eastern are hockey, basketball, and softball. Miss Martha Williams is coach of these sports. Competitive games are scheduled throughout the seasons with other colleges in the surrounding area.

GIRLS' SPORTS

One of the main activities sponsored this year by the girls' athletic program was the hockey clinic held on campus last October. Miss Constance Applebee who first introduced the game to the United States in 1901 was the guest. Other Kentucky colleges and local high schools were invited to attend the all day session.

During the basketball season, the girls played teams from the University of Louisville, Morehead, Berea, Midway, Centre, Transylvania, University of Cincinnati, and Nazareth. Members of the basketball team are Betty Jim Ross, Jaanie Mitchell, Dot Quisenberry, Pat Allison, Bev. Wilson, Florene Conn, Arlene Isaacs, Arlene Black, Katherine Johnson, Sandy Sharpe, Nancy Ross, and Carol Kidd.

During the month of March the girls' teams participated in a sports day at the University of Kentucky. Eastern can also claim to be a member of the Kentucky Athletic Federation of College Women.

Plans for softball season were to begin after the spring vacation.

SOPHOMORES

SECOND SEMESTER SOPHOMORES

Last fall the sophomores were still untangling themselves from the newness of the college world; this spring this same group was being caught in the spinning web of activities which are an important part of college life. This is the year of honoraries . . . Cwens and Kappa Iota. This is the year when thoughts turn to money-making projects in preparation for their junior year. Class activities are more regular and more active than those of the past year. Movies are sponsored; parties are given. A vivid picture taken from such an activity is that of the fun had by the freshmen at the Freshman-Sophomore Party sponsored by this class.

"Learn today, lead tomorrow."

The Reserve Officers Training Corps is a large division on Eastern's campus. Not only is the ROTC "big" in number of men students enrolled, but it is "big" as to the many activities into which the group enters and participates. The basic purpose of the military science department is to train young men for the armed services, and by doing this the ROTC instills leadership, craftmanship, and character into the student. Members of the color guard are Gene Bonta, Tom Schulte, George Griffin, and Rolph Consiglio.

Classroom training is an important part in the schedule of the ROTC students. Freshmen and sophomores meet twice weekly plus the corps training while junior and senior boys meet four times weekly plus the corps training.

Eastern's ROTC has been training young men for the Army since 1936 with exception only during World War II. Headquarters for this department is located in the Weaver Health Building.

First aid classes are a part of the ROTC program

At the present two hundred and forty-four students are enrolled in the ROTC. Students hold rank from the Cadet Colonel to Private which is the classification af freshmen students. Promotions are from Private to Private 1st class, Corporal, Sergeant, 2nd Lieutenant, 1st Lieutenant, Captain, Major, Lieutenant Colonel, and Cadet Colonel.

The Military Ball which has been given annually for seventeen years is perhaps one of the greatest social events on campus. The Drill and Rifle teams which give shows and represent the callege in various meets are also an important part af the corps.

FRESHMEN

Many, many months ago . . . back in September, many freshmen students experienced the act of registration. And then second semester came and this was repeated, although perhaps in a different manner. Registration recalls aches, happiness, relief, joy, but the freshmen lives and college continues. Elected class president of this group was Dick Perry. Bill Hayden is vice-president; Gerry Pence, secretary; Emily Massey, treasurer, and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richards are class advisors.

SECOND SEMESTER FRESHMEN

SECOND ROW: Betty Hurst, Woltersville; Nino McCoun, Smithfield; Sue Bohanan, Perryville; Shirley Gentry, Mt. Washington; and Sue Freiberger, Cincinnati, Ohio.

THIRD ROW: John Cowon, Richmond; Philip Evans, Danville; and Lester Jones, Corbin.

The unity and co-operation admired in the three higher classes had its beginning in the freshman group. The freshman class is the foundation of what the future college years should contain. Much time is spent in this group in becoming acquainted. Class officers are elected only when members are familiar with the outstanding characteristics which will insure good officers for the freshman group. Activities sponsored by this class are limited in preference to the wider field of education. Freshmen are encouraged to become acquainted not only with students but with their books, the use of the library, the campus, profitable study habits, wise management of money, and the proper use of time. Freshmen are being schooled for their coming college life.

ORGANIZATIONS

Over fifty organized clubs are offered to the various interests and abilities that students possess. Although every person is encouraged to be a member of an organization, the campus prefers that a student doesn't belong to too many clubs. The campus is proud of the national honoraries and departmental clubs which have chapters at Eastern and is equally as proud of the many fine activities and projects which result from all the college organizations.

Memories from membership in an organization are a vivid picture in our mind. Installations, first meetings, weiner roasts, banquets, elections, committee meetings, announcements, posters, officers . . . combine to make organizations a very definite part of our school life.

CWENS

Cwens is a national honorary for sophomore women which has as its purpose to sponsor leadership, scholarship, and service among freshman and sophomore women. Activities include the annual sponsoring of the freshman women's banquet at Christmas, co-sponsoring the "B" Average tea and the women's honor day program with the senior women's honorary. Each month Cwens has one major activity, usually a school service. Officers are Mary Becker, president; Joy Kitsan, vice-president; Rosalind Lewis, secretary; and Doris Wilmer, treasurer.

COLLEGIATE PENTACLE

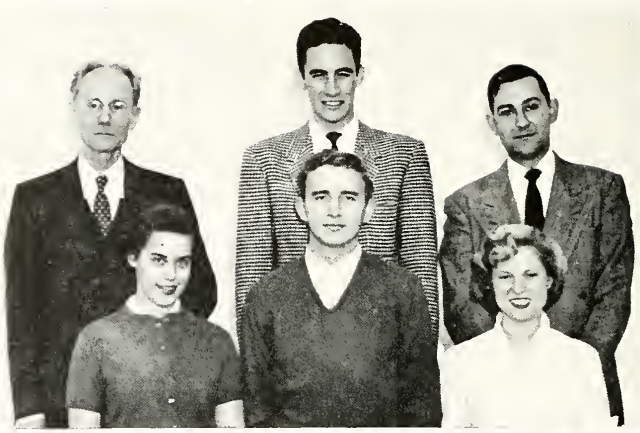
Collegiate Pentacle is the senior women's honorary on the campus. Membership is achieved by excelling in leadership as well as scholarship. Activities of the organization include the "B" average tea, a tea for junior women, sandwich sales, and sponsorship of a dance. Dean Emma Y. Case is sponsor and the officers are Janet Campbell, president; Virginia Durbin, vice-president; Denyse Campbell, secretary; Polly Jenkins, treasurer; and Billie Cawood, chaplain.

KAPPA DELTA PI

Kappa Delta Pi, an Honor Society in Education, is an international organizotion which has as its purpose to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal stondards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. Activities include presenting an annual scholarship award to the sophomore student who shows a sincere interest in the teaching profession and sending representotives to national and regional convocations. Delta Alpha Chapter officers are Roger Stephens, president; Edith Ann Taylor, vice-president; Thelma Parke, secretory; and Jackson Lackey, treasurer. Miss Ido Teater is counselor.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, notional dramatic fraternity, empowered a chapter in 1937 under the direction of Miss Pearl Buchanan. The purpose of the organizotion is to honor outstanding achievement in the theater and to aid students to gain more knowledge and understonding of the arts. Officers are Chester Greynolds, president; James Snow, vice-president; and Jim Burch, secretary-treasurer. The club advisor is Glen Wilson.



SIGMA TAU DELTA

The purpose of Sigma Tau Delta is to endeavor to advance the study of the great literary masterpieces, encourage worthwhile reading, promote the mastery of written expression, and foster a spirit of fellowship among students specializing in the English language and literature. Major activities include an annual banquet and inviting guests to speak at the monthly meetings. Officers for this year are Mary Jo Campbell, president; Thom McElfresh, secretary; Roger Stephens, treasurer; and Edith Ann Taylor, historian. Miss Pearl Buchanan is advisor.

KAPPA PI

The purposes of the National Kappa Pi Art Fraternity are to promote interest among college students in art, to recognize potential and professional ability in art, to bring art departments of various colleges closer together through activities, and to know the work of other students through exhibits and the SKETCH BOOK which is the national society's journal. Activities include the annual exhibit of members' work and entering a float in the Homecoming parade. Officers are Thomas Forbes, president; Pat Bell, vice-president; Martha Leeds, secretary; and Betty White, treasurer. Dr. F. P. Giles is sponsor.

KAPPA IOTA EPSILON

Kappa Iota Epsilon is the honorary fraternity for sophomore men and was organized in 1950 for the purpose of promoting leadership, scholarship, and citizenship on the campus and in the community. Among the many activities sponsored by the fraternity are the annual smoker for faculty men members, a monthly banquet for both active and associate fraternity members, and the Honor's Day program for men students. Club advisor is John Rowlett. Vernon Bundy is president; Denver Wells, vice-president; Jim Cheak, secretary; and Carl Tomlin, treasurer.

THE OAKS

On March 2, 1955, twenty junior and senior men students were inaugurated into Eastern's first junior-senior men's honorary. These men were elected by faculty vote and students were chosen on scholastic standing, leadership, and character.

The group of men students selected the Greek letters Omicron Alpha Kappa to be the name of the honorary.

SIGMA TAU PI

Sigma Tau Pi of the Society of Commerce has as its purpose to promote a feeling of unity and fellowship among its members, ta aid the general welfare in the department of commerce, and to pravide opportunities for social and educational growth. The officers are Pat Bell, president; Oris Johnson, vice-president; Janice Burton, secretary; and Juliane Wiedekamp, treasurer. Dean W. J. Moore is sponsor for the group.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club strives to stimulate individual and campus interest in biology and to promate friendship and the exchange of ideas among students. The club spansors informative discussions about things af the living world, as well as spansars instructional and recreational autings. Officers are Glenn Brown, president; Mitzi Mueller, secretary; and Alice Keene, treasurer. A. L. Whitt serves as club advisor.

PHYSICS CLUB

The purpose of the Physics Club is to promote the interest in physics and the related sciences on the campus and to better prepare the members for their jobs in this field after graduation. The club's lectures are given by instructors of the different science departments of the college. Officers are Joe Shelton, president; Roger Alexander, vice-president; and Ronald Smiley, secretary. Dr. J. G. Black is advisor.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND RECREATION

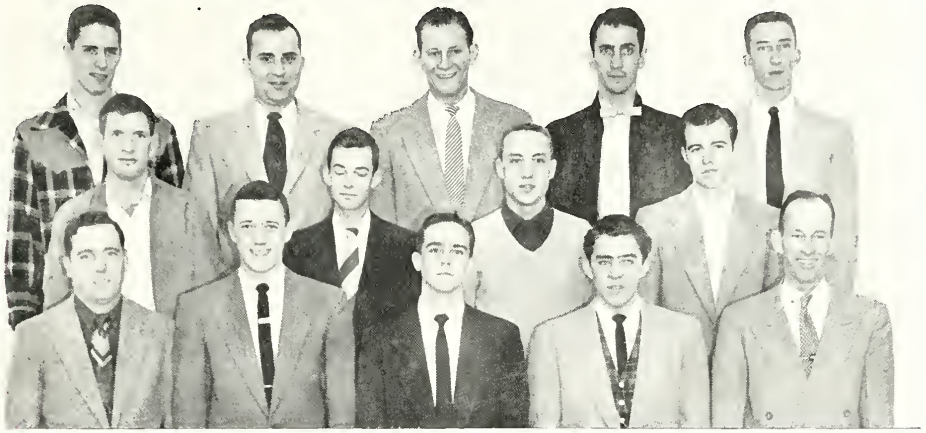
The purpose of the Physical Education and Recreatian Club is to promote a better understanding in the field of physical education and to create a feeling of fair play in everyday life. Major activities include the sponsoring of play nights, dances, picnics, and other physical education events which will promote team spirit. Officers for this year are Bill Marshall, president; Joyce Blevins, vice-president; Carlene Babb, secretary; and Bill Fitzgerald, treasurer. Charles T. Hughes is sponsor of the club.

CADUCEUS CLUB

Caduceus Club was organized in 1936 by Dr. J. D. Farris who was at that time college physician at Eastern. It fosters premedical interest of students who are interested in medicine, pharmacy, medical technology, dentistry and nursing. The club meets twice each month. Informative lectures are given by doctors and occasionally medical films are shown. Officers are Everett Bickers, president; David Eversole, vice-president; Mary Helen Collins, secretary; and Ramona Fletcher, treasurer. Faculty advisor is M. J. Cox.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club was organized by Ruth Dix in 1931 to create a closer relationship among its members and the department. Activities which help the members develop a closer relationship are formal dinners, picnics, and educational meetings. For membership one must be a home economics major or minor and take an active part in the club. Officers are Janice Treadway, president; Joy McCreary, vice-president; Barbara Williamson, secretary; and Nancie Stone, treasurer. The club sponsor is Miss Mary K. Burrier.



INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The purpose of the Industrial Arts Club is to promote interest in the industrial aspects of our civilization and to provide a means for promoting fellowship among the members of the industrial arts department. Social and educational experiences are provided for the members with bimonthly meetings. Officers are Chester Greynolds, president; Dee Elliston, vice-president; Vencil Engle, secretary; and Bob Roy, treasurer. Thomas Myers is club sponsor.

MATH CLUB

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to increase interest in mathematics and to interpret to others the importance of and the benefits to be derived from the study of mathematics. The club's programs consist of guest faculty speakers as well as speakers from the club membership. Officers for this year are Merrell Patrick, president; Ronald Smiley, vice-president; Betty Joyce Christian, secretary; and Janet Campbell, treasurer. Alvin McGlasson is advisor.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is designed to develop ideals and power in the lives of its members; to enrich the spirit of college life; to advance the interests of the teaching profession; and to foster the education of all people. The club sponsored a series of educational and informative programs throughout the year for the entire student body. Officers are Sue C. DAILY LIFE

From September to June, life on Eastern's campus is seen and expressed in many varied ways. Daily life is hours of happiness, worry, joy, sorrow, and gayness. Being a part of the campus, students find doors to knowledge, romance, fellowship, social culture, and specialized interests opened to them. There is an abundant amount of living at Eastern college.

College . . . Eastern . . . the first day . . . a new way of living . . . familiar faces . . . a world of surprising activity. Students come for one semester, for two years, for four years.

The freshman enters into a thrilling life of different experiences.

Larry, Beth, and Babbie are greeted by President and Mrs. O'Donnell.

"Big Sister" Mary Lake extends a helping welcome to freshman Shirley.

Freshman week is in itself a complex, thrilling adventure. With this first week comes many other "firsts" . . . firsts that will never be erased from dear college memories. After arriving on campus among suitcases of loneliness, strangeness, determination, and eagerness one of the initial thoughts for new students will be an interest to meet the President and Mrs. O'Donnell. Coinciding with this desire will be the wish of being settled. Favorite photographs, tennis rackets, a tiny stuffed panda, high school annuals, a baseball glove . . . all will be unpacked to take their places in a new room.

Pat "unpacks" home atmosphere into her college room.

Joe asks the assistance of his freshmen counsellar, Mr. McGlasson.

Greetings continue but classification tests, identification pictures, afternoon teas, roommates, counsellors enter into an expanding world.

Counsellors' guidance is needed to answer inquiring questions of first time bewilderment. The fear and dread of long registration line is combatted by gathering on the Ad. steps before the doors extend an open invitation. Schedules are changed; classes are closed; room assignment cards are forgotten; check books are misplaced. Registration is an emotion of confusion, satisfaction and tiredness. The first main step has been taken and college life promises each freshman an amazing year. Friendly upperclassmen are flocking back; the campus is a scene of renewed friendships; summer stories are exchanged; the contagious spirit of hospitality is breathed, even by Mo who wags his tail of friendship.

Weekly Sunday breakfast at the Christian Church is an hour of fellowship and spiritual growth.

And Sunday comes . . . the first Sunday of this college year . . . Students are anxious to become affiliated with the local church of their choice, and all of the denominations rejoice in the contributions played by students. Church life has a wholesome part in the completeness of the freshman girl or the senior boy.

The days pass to weeks and activities begin, elections, membership campaigns, retreats, and installations. Annually in Burnam Hall is the beautiful impressive installation of the House Council . . . organization demands meetings and the four classes are eager that their leaders be chosen and plans for the coming months be made. Perhaps no class is busier than the seniors . . . graduation, school gift, class ring, applications, . . . all have to have early fall attention.

Histology labs find Vic, Raymond, and Mary Helen staining slides and cutting sections for micrascopic study

Mr. Burns presents to his sociology class many problems concerning the influences of environment and heredity and the part each plays in society.

Labs . . . lectures . . . library . . . research . . . studious life is part of the development. Knowledge surrounds the small world of a college compus. Knowledge is ours if we are willing to search, to inquire, to work. Knowledge . . . education is our ultimate goal.

Eastern's library offers to the student a place ta study, to da research, ar ta read the current newspapers and magazines. Huda, Ann, and Jahn find this to be the place af quietness.

Ernie and Joyce take advantage of the International Center and the vast amaunt af material on reserve there. This is the first year the campus has had such a center.

A dial of the number . . . a telephone ring . . . Burnam Hall . . . a request for a special girl . . . and Jim is happy.

A raam buzz . . . a walk ta the main desk . . . "Back phone, Joanne" . . . a hello . . . a call fram a special boy . . . and Jo is hoppy.

Telephone calls . . . a tauch af a hand . . . walks on Saturday afternoons . . . precious memories to be cherished as the future af a boy and his girl is planned. This tao is a part of our education. This tao is our life.

An afternaon walk . . . a smile and a faraway laok . . . and Bill and Jenny plan far the years ahead.

A pretty day, o tree to lean against . . . and Pat and Jack suddenly find lats to smile about.

Holloween provides the students with funny looking hats, rattling noise makers, tasty apple cider, sticky donuts, and a marvelous evening of fun.

Polly presents her senior voice recital. Peggy is her accomponist.

Halloween . . . student recitals . . . dramatic ploys . . . community concerts.

Falling leaves usher in the month of October that quickly passes into November. Now the days are not only filled with mid-semester tests, late book reports, calculus problems, student teaching, but they are filled with invitations to attend the "best" party of each year, to hear senior friends in their student recitals, to see a well-selected and well trained student cast perform, and to be entertained by nationally known talented persons of the stage.

"The Mole Animal," starring Roger, Joan, and Nick, was the first dramatic production of the year.

Community concerts are scheduled throughout the year. Among the many students who usher regularly is Nancie.

The Grille . . . Few words in Eastern's vocabulary recall as many happy, as many varied memories as do the words, the grille. The grille and the recreation room provide students with enjoyment and memories in playing pool, ping pong, and cards, dancing, listening to music, chatting with friends, sipping a coke, eating a coney island, peeping one more time into an empty post office box, and mailing the weekly letter hame to the family. On special occasions the shuffling of the cards heard any daily hour resound in the musical melodies of danceland.

Glenn and the weekly mail.

Jim and Joyce select a song at the juke-box.

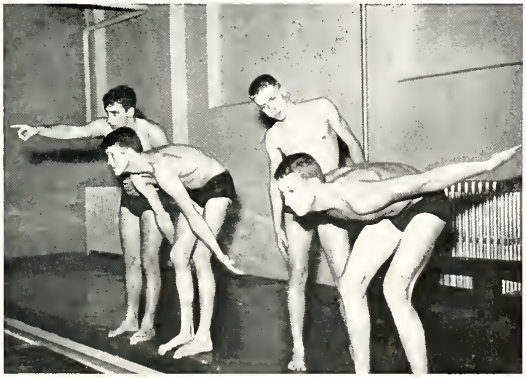
The third month of first semester finds many organizations preparing for coming events. The band, practicing since September, continues long hours of rehearsals for the Homecoming presentation. Swimmers begin the daily sessions of instruction and improvement. Musical organizations and the modern dance club prepare the first stage production of John Jacob Niles' cantata, "Mary, the Rose." Each campus group chooses a float theme; finds working space in barns, dormitories, garages; begins to hammer, to paint, to stuff napkins.

Early mornings, late afternoons find the band practicing.



Coaches Bob and Rich instruct Dick and Johnny.

Float work means Homecoming is nearing.

Weeks before the greot day orrives the campus is lost in an atmosphere of Homecoming festivities. The long awaited day arrives . . . attractive candidates are queenly atop goily decorated floats . . . and from the thirty-nine beauties, one is to be selected as Homecoming Queen. The alumni committee, judging on beauty, poise, and appearance chose Miss Betty Pack, junior from Paintsville, to reign over the annual Homecoming festivities.

A beautiful, sunny, November day provided the setting for the annual Homecoming Parade. Floats which had caused students to skip classes, to miss the Homecoming dance, to make endless trips to town, and to forget the comforts of sleep now took their places to add to the grandeur of the parade. Floats of various descriptions showed the onlooker that students never spend a dull moment at Eastern. An alumni committee awarded the first prize honor to the Harlan County float.

The Pastels, a college archestra.

The Maroons football team, undefeated and OVC champs, received a bid to play in the Tangerine Bowl held on New Year's Day in Orlando. Excitement ruled the campus weeks ahead in preparation for the big trip. Students can re-call special assemblies to honor the team and coaches, snake dances, pep rallies to celebrate the deserving news concerning the boys of which we were so proud.

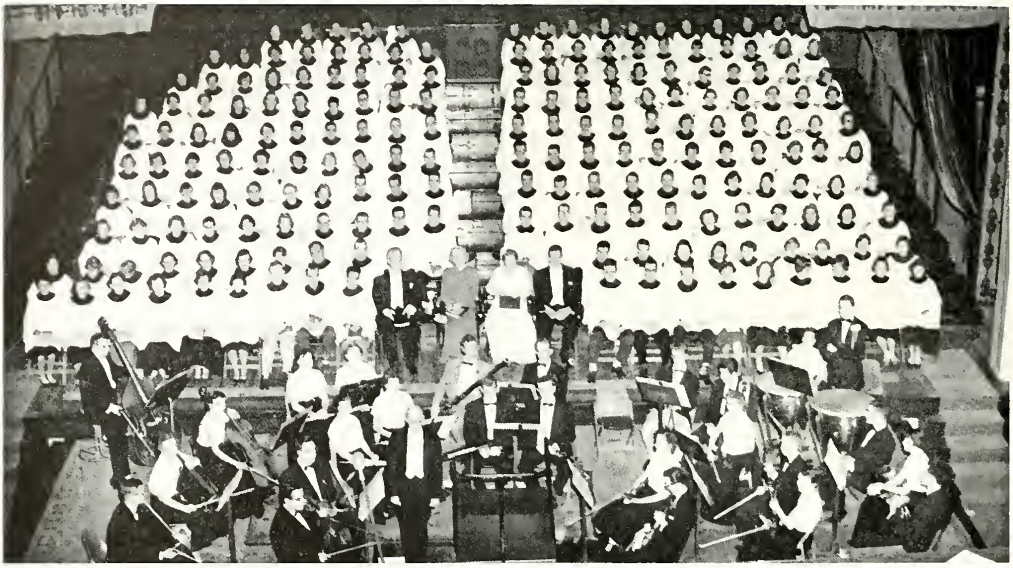
Jim buys Lou a tangerine to help the band fund.

Good-byes are waved to the Richmand people as the bus leaves for Orlando.

The band and ROTC sponsored dances, sold tangerines, and raised money in various ways to pay for the Florida trip. Was it worth the work? Florida talk continued throughout this year . . . and will live as long as Eastern does. The band and ROTC Drill Team left Richmond in chartered buses on December 30 and arrived in the Sunshine State in time to enjoy the beach, the sights, and the people. Even the long trip home was enjoyable and is part of the holiday trip to be remembered.

Ray and Frances enjoy the ocean and sunshine in December.

Bus trips, although long and tiresome, can be lots of fun.



The annual presentation of Handel's Messiah is one of the many Christmas season activities.

December 12 was the date of the twenty-third annual performance of Handel's Messiah. Approximately two hundred fifty students and townspeople participated in the chorus. The orchestra was a combined group of Eastern and Berea musicians. Mr. Van directed the Messiah.

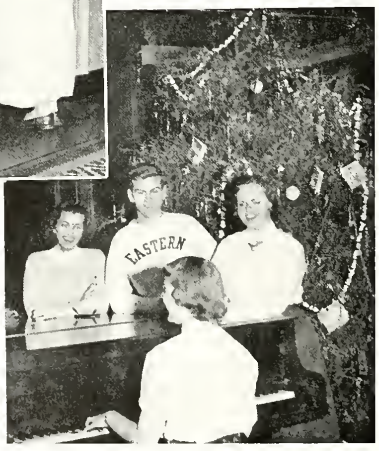
Another annual Christmas tradition which has lived through twenty-five years of Yuletide celebration is the Hanging of the Greens, sponsored jointly by the YW-YMCA. During this program, the lobby, ceiling, windows, and doors of the second floor of the SUB are decorated with the assistance of over sixty girls.



The holiday season . . . a decorative tree . . . Yuletide songs . . . students gather in Burnam to express their holiday spirit by singing Christmas carols.

All the campus Christmas events are beautiful impressions that are revived many times during college memories.

The fourth annual freshman women's dinner sponsored by Cwens is a scene of Yuletide atmosphere.

Completing the holiday activities is the annual freshman women's dinner, the senior class Christmas dinner, the Burnam Hall party, a home economics club party, and caroling by church organizations and dorm groups.

The college is always proud of its many students and the honors which they bring to themselves and to the campus. Throughout the school months, many students receive recognition, both local and statewide, in the various fields in which they participate.

The Council at a regular semi-monthly meeting.

BASKETBALL QUEEN

The spirit of faatball and basketball games is largely determined by the enthusiasm of the cheerleaders. This year's cheering squad has been ane of the best of all times as Bob, Jonnie, Barbara, Jim, Carlene, Jo Rene, and Ronnie lead the spectators in winning yells and praising songs.

Annually a Bosketboll Queen is chosen by the penny-a-vote method. This year under the sponsorship of the "E" club each of the four classes submitted a candidate; freshman representative was Barbara Reliford; sophomore, Dolores Cooper; junior, Phyllis Counts; and senior, Janice Burton. Miss Counts of Raceland was crowned Basketball Queen.

VIRGINIA DURBIN

SUZY RAMEY

MISS POPULARITY CANDIDATES

JOYCE PATTERSON

DEAN RUBARTS

The three highest honors annually bestowed upon students by campus votes are Miss Eastern, Miss Popularity, and Mr. Popularity. Miss Eastern was the title given to Miss Betty Pack, junior from Paintsville, elected for her beauty and poise. Miss Pack will represent Eastern at the annual Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival. Miss Edith Ann Taylor, senior from Covington, was chosen Miss Popularity, an honor second only to Miss Eastern, on the qualities of personality, popularity, and leadership. Both are representatives of the ideal co-ed. James Burch, senior from Stamping Ground, was elected Mr. Popularity, the highest campus honor for men. Mr. Popularity is selected for outstanding personality, popularity and leadership.

"May these join the choir invisible

Of those immortal dead who live again

In minds made better by their presence; live

In pulses stirred to generosity,

In deeds of daring rectitude, in scorn

For miserable aims that end with self,

In thoughts sublime that pierce the night like stars,

And with their mild persistence urge man's search

To vaster issues."
